Specimen Newspaper

Printed on Newsprint

From Sugar-Cane

Today's Quotation
Garments will be torn, gems and gold will be destroyed; the fame which song brings will last for ever.

—Ovid

I am looking at a remarkable newspaper. It is a section of the Savannah (Ga.) Morning News for May 19 — whose only characteristic, you would say, is the special degree of whiteness of the insert sheet marked Pages 7 and 8.

But this sheet is truly remarkable. It wasn't made from standard wood pulp at all — it is the first public specimen of a newspaper page printed on paper manufactured from bagasse, a residue of sugar cane.

Here at The Star we've been looking at it over carefully ever since it arrived yesterday with a special bulletin from the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association. The SNPA bulletin, issued June 4, tells me:

"The bagasse from which the run was made in Savannah on May 19 was gathered in the southern part of Florida and shipped to the Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis., where it was made into pulp. This pulp was then shipped to the Herty Foundation Laboratory in Savannah, Ga., where it was cooked, washed, screened, and bleached. After being mixed with a small amount of purified clay it was pumped from the mixing vat to the paper machine. The clay added to the pulp provides improved printing characteristics. Long sheets were produced and wound on rolls. They were then delivered to the plant of the Savannah News."

"The process of making the paper was developed by Joaquin de la Roza who was born in Cuba but was reared in Maine. The process is based on using the standard wood pulp and paper digesters and equipment. It is similar to that used in producing wood pulp but with different temperatures, pressures, and concentrations of chemicals."

"Mr. de la Roza has plans for a plant somewhere in Florida or Cuba (the latter is favored because it is near the supply of sugar cane). His proposal is for the erection of a mill with a capacity of 215 tons per day of what is termed pre-hydrolysis sulphate bagasse newsprint. He estimates the total cost at $14,815,000, an additional $2,500,000 being required for operating capital. The production cost is estimated at $65.92 per ton of newsprint produced."

That's the story behind this sample section of the Savannah newspaper — and if I tell it at length it's because the last chemical development to come out of the late Dr. Charles H. Herty's Savannah laboratory was also represented by a display of sample newspapers. That was the special run of nine Georgia dailies back in 1933, introducing the first newsprint ever made from southern pine pulp. The result of that 1933 discovery was the establishment of a newsprint industry in the South already totaling more than 100 million dollars in mills built or under construction.

Here in a heavily wooded section of the South you might think we wouldn't relish the prospect of having to compete with newsprint made from sugar cane waste. But we welcome it. The world is short on newsprint. On our side of the world the Canadians make 90 per cent of our newsprint; they have just increased the Southwestern delivered price in carlots from $120 a ton to an all-time high of $130 — and there's nothing anyone in the United States can do about it.

A little more newsprint, whether from the pine woods or the sugar cane fields, certainly won't hurt. As a matter of fact it will be the least-hurting thing the newspaper industry can imagine.

Derailment Listed as Accidental

El Dorado, June 7 (P) — The derailment of 13 freight cars on a Missouri Pacific spur track at the striking Lion Oil Company's plant here was listed as an accident after an investigation by Union County Sheriff said last night that the wreck Thursday was caused by a "Sun Kink" in a rail, and no evidence of sabotage was present.

Sheriff Bishop's findings confirmed an earlier report by Missouri Pacific Railroad Division S. N. J. W. Treadwell. A "sun kink" is caused when a rail expands because of excessive heat.

Repair work on the track just inside the chemical plant grounds began yesterday. The work had been held up pending the Sheriff's investigation.

Church of Christ Meet Starts June 12

A gospel meeting will start at the Hope Church of Christ, 5th and Grady streets, on June 12 and continue through June 22, it was announced today. Services will be held each night starting at 8 o'clock.

Bringing the message nightly will be Evangelist Otis L. Rowe of Cotton Valley, La. The public is invited.

Deal in South Disputed by GOP Factions

Washington, June 7 (P) — A compromise offer by Sen. Robert Taft in a dispute over rival GOP presidential-nominating firings in the South has been spurned by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's campaign chiefs.

But Eisenhower himself commented: "Gee, that sounds good." The Ohio senator, battling Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, yesterday suggested a compromise in contacts involving, among others, 38 delegates from Texas, 16 from Louisiana, 17 from Georgia and five from Mississippi. Taft did not spell out any details of his offer.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., of Massachusetts, Eisenhower campaign manager, rejected the proposal. So did Texas' Eisenhower leader, Jack Porter of Houston.

A Texas backer of Taft, national GOP committeeman Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, welcomed the idea, however.

Taft's suggestion was made at a news conference in Indianapolis, where he was trying to coax Indiana's 32 delegate votes into his camp. He left Indianapolis before learning of Lodge's rejection or Eisenhower's comment.

Taft said he hoped to avoid a fight over seating the delegates at the July 7 Republican National Convention in Chicago.

"I hope we can compromise the contests where there is any serious difference on legal grounds," he said. "I would like to avoid contests before the credentials committee if differences can be settled on a fair basis."

In Washington, Lodge quickly retorted with a statement:

"It is never right to compromise with dishonesty. We are in the right both on the facts and on the law and enter into no deals which will disenfranchise the Republicans of Texas. The convention itself will decide the issue and I have no doubts about its decision."

Eisenhower's comment, without elaboration was made before Lodge's statement. It came at Kansas City where he was told of the offer as he prepared to fly to New York.

The Texas fight, at a convention in Mineral Wells May 27, was particularly bitter. Taft backers had baited earlier meetings at which state delegates were elected and picked delegates of their own. These pro-Taft delegates were seated at Mineral Wells and Eisenhower forces promptly walked out. Each state gathering named a national delegate.

Under party rules, the national convention credentials committee must first decide which contested delegates to recognize. This decision can be appealed ultimately to the convention itself.

Blue Phantom Acts Again, One Injured

Decatur, Ill. June 7 (P) — "The blue phantom," a sharp-shooting gunman of the Illinois highways, struck again yesterday, shooting at four motorists. One driver was injured.

State policemen, baffled by the mysterious shootings which were first reported two weeks ago, spread their hunt to he air. They also set up roadblocks through Central Illinois in a 70-mile area from Towanda to near Springfield.

Yesterday's sniping brought to eight the number of motorists reporting they had been shot at by the gunman, or gunmen. Potshots were taken at four motorists during the Memorial Day end holiday. One driver was injured. After each shooting, the gunman sped away in the opposite direction.

Most of the motorists who have been fired upon reported the bullets came from a man or men in a big blue sedan. A state police plane cruised over the area yesterday hunting for the type of car from which shots were reported fired. State policemen were ordered to stop and search all blue sedans.

George M. Cushing, of Pontiac, one of the motorists fired upon yesterday, suffered a cut right arm when a man in a blue sedan shot at him 10 miles north of Bloomington. He said the car contained two men.

Hope VFW Men Get District Posts

The VFW will make its regular scrap paper drive Sunday afternoon starting at one o'clock. All workers are asked to meet at the City Hall.

In a recent district meeting at Magnolia Denver Dickinson of Hope was named commander, Lyle McMahon of Oakhaven, junior vice-commander and Steve Bader of Hope, quartermaster.

NOTHING THERE — I don't see nothin', says 4-year-old Frances Langner as she looks down the throat of her cousin Beverly Langner, 3, to see what she could see. Minneapolis fire department rescue squad did the same thing and extracted a butterfly scotch ball which had lodged in Beverly's windpipe and threatened strangulation. (NEA Telephoto)

Ike Backers Cry 'Steal' in Indiana

Indianapolis, June 7 (P) — With Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's backers crying "steal," Indiana Republicans prepared today to complete a 32-vote delegation almost solidly backing Sen. Robert A. Taft for the GOP presidential nomination.

Only formal ratification by a state convention was needed to elect 10 delegates-at-large committed to Taft.

Twenty listed by party leaders as Taft backers were chosen in district caucuses last night. Eisenhower got one and another was regarded by both sides as neutral.

This result, accomplished in what was called by Eisenhower's supporters a change of rules in the middle of the game, brought threats of a contest at the GOP national convention next month in Chicago.

Former Rep. Robert A. Grant, state Eisenhower chairman, asserted in a statement that he and others aren't going to accept the result as final.

"We have seen the Texas steal his thrown all caution to the winds," Grant declared. "The delegate slate x x x made by a group of power-hungry desperate men x x x does not represent the wishes of the Republicans of Indiana."

In a maneuver which apparently caught most of the Eisenhower group napping, party organization leaders ruled that all delegate candidates must file by a fixed deadline yesterday and put up $500 in fees. They said anyone who didn't qualify couldn't run.

At least one Eisenhower candidate, publisher Eugene C. Pulliam of the Indianapolis Star and the Indianapolis News, met the deadline.

So did William Hutcheson, former president of the AFL Brotherhood of Carpenters. He was regarded as neutral by both sides.

Pulliam and Hutcheson were elected unopposed as district delegates, but only after a rebellion against them from within the ranks of some Eisenhower backers had been quelled.

This group wanted two Eisenhower campaign leaders instead, but they lost in an effort to get their names before the caucus.

The other 30 candidates who filed were handicapped by the Taft force, including the 10-at-large to be finally elected today. With some changes in personnel, the Taft forces won without opposition 20 of the 22 district places filled last night.

Grant charged that the Taft organization had changed the rules in the middle of the game, since he said candidates never before had been required to pay fees and fill in advance of caucus meetings.

PSC Denies Rehearing to Bell Company

Little Rock, June 7 (P) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission denied Southwestern Bell Telephone Company a rehearing on its application to put a proposed 1.9 million dollar rate raise into effect under bond.

The PSC had previously refused to allow the utility to hike its rates by posting a bond for refunds. The telephone company filed a motion for a rehearing on the bond refusal and the PSC refused that request yesterday.

The Commission said the telephone company had not yet instituted a $3,177,000 rate increase granted by the Supreme Court in February and that a new increase "was not in the public interest."

Bell contended that the PSC action in denying the bond was illegal since the PSC could refuse to accept a bond only if it were inadequate or insufficient.

Steel Talkers Back at Work, Keep Silent

Washington, June 1 (P) — While House talks aimed at ending the six-day-old nationwide steel strike resume today for the third straight day, any progress concealed by tight-lipped silence of both management and the union.

Neither side would comment after five hours of negotiation yesterday. There was no official confirmation of reliable reports that the steel companies had offered, or were about to offer, each of the 650,000 idled CIO steelworkers a package pay raise of 20 cents an hour.

Meanwhile, the government prepared to channel all available steel into the manufacture of weapons if the walkout continues.

Secretary of Defense Lovett told in a news conference yesterday that in view of the "very grave situation," the Defense Department is asking its weapons contractors to shift to non-steel plants for steel to turn out certain critical items. He did not name the items but said such action could take care of only a small fraction of the steel needed for weapons.

Lovett also said the department was considering making direct contracts with those still-operating mills but he added this is "not a very promising field." Defense officials said about 27 plants are not struck, none of them major steel producers.

In answer to a news conference question, Lovett said the Defense Department had considered but rejected placing orders direct with the idled steel companies to bring into play a section of the Selective Service Act which could permit government seizure of plants if the orders remained unfilled.

Lovett commented that studies under way for weeks on the subject showed prospects of obtaining steel by this method were "not very hopeful."

The National Production Authority meanwhile, drafted the order that would restrict steel deliveries from the still-operating mills to weapons contracts. Actual issuance of the order was expected.

Many June Graduates Don't Have to Worry About Jobs — Uncle Sam Has Settled That

By HAL BOYLE
New York, June 7 — Diary notes by a pavement plato:

Lucky Joe College: Graduation day means the end of midnight party raids on sorority dormitories for certain things has compensations.

In the past his sheepskin diploma has been a dust-catching souvenir. But in 1952 it is the open sesame to financial success.

The world isn't waiting for Joe College to build a better mouse trap before beating a path to his door. It is beating his door down in the hope he can build any kind of a mouse trap.

Big business scouts have been standing in line to pick off the cream of the college graduates, offering them $400 a month and up to start.

Usually I write a letter of advice to the June graduate. But not this year. Not after reading of one bright young fellow who is stepping into a $10,000 a year post.

What most older men would like is a letter of advice from him on how he did it. Ten thousand dollars? Even professional baby sitters don't make that kind of money today.

But many a Joe College is going to have to postpone accepting the golden offers that come his way. There is an earlier bid for his services put in by an older member of his family — Uncle Sam.

There is a story going around

Powerboat Races Scheduled Sunday at Narrows Lake

More than 100 contestants will take part in the powerboat races at Narrows Lake at Murfreesboro Sunday, June 8, starting at 2 p.m. The event was originally scheduled May 11 but delayed by the weather.

The race is sponsored by the Narrows Lake Boat Club headed by Dan Fulkerson and is sanctioned by the Arkansas Power Boat Association.

Among the top contenders expected are David Livingston of Lake Village, Bill Barron of Memphis and Bill Shingleton of El Dorado.

Efforts Made to Get Backing for Eisenhower

Little Rock, June 7 (P) — An apparent move by supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to increase the general's delegate strength in Arkansas came to light yesterday.

Four of Arkansas' 11 delegates to the Republican National Convention said they received invitations to attend the welcome home celebration for Eisenhower in Abilene, Kas., Wednesday, and one said he had carried an all expenses paid provision.

The Arkansas delegation is divided with seven for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Eisenhower's chief opponent for the Republican presidential nomination; three for Eisenhower's chief opponent for the Republican presidential nomination; three for Eisenhower and one uncommitted.

At least one delegate, Harry Craig of Caraway, and Jefferson Speck, Republican candidate for governor of Arkansas, attended the celebration and conferred with Eisenhower. Four other delegates who didn't go said they received invitations — two received them from Speck and two from Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas.

Charles R. Cole of Batesville, an avowed Taft supporter and delegate at large, said his invitation to the homecoming from Speck included an all expenses paid provision. Harry Pollack of Ft. Smith, the "uncommitted" delegate from the Third Congressional District, said he did not receive an invitation, but added that he was impressed by Eisenhower's first political discussion.

Osro Cobb, delegate at large and chairman of the Republican State Committee, said he was invited by Speck but nothing was said about expenses. Cobb, a Taft supporter, added, "Eisenhower and Taft seem a lot closer together on their thinking than it first appeared. At least there will not be a split in the Republican party. I'll be happy to support either man nominated."

Elmer C. Webb of Mountain View Second District delegate who leans toward Ike, but is uncommitted on the record, said he was invited to Abilene by Gov. Carlson. He added that "nothing was said about expenses."

Wallace Townsend of Little Rock, National Republican committeeman and delegate at large, said Gov. Carlson also invited him to attend the Eisenhower ceremony. Townsend is the leader of the Taft movement in Arkansas.

NOT SO SERIOUS — The four-day-old strike of 1,000 members of the AFL Meat Cutters Union in Cleveland took on an odd twist as this young couple stood in front of a local market making faces at each other. The incident wasn't as serious as it appeared, however, because the couple are man and wife. The husband, Gene Fudei, is a picketing butcher and his wife Joanne, is a cashier in the store. ## Tear Gas Used on Koje War Prisoners

Koje Island, Korea, June 7 (P) — British infantrymen drove Communist prisoners of war back from a barbed wire fence with tear gas today.

It was the first time United Nations guards had to use tear gas since last Wednesday.

Guards from the King's Shropshire Light Infantry threw six tear gas grenades into Compound 69 when POWs refused to retreat from the vicinity of engineers digging for a suspected prisoner escape tunnel.

No one was reported hurt in the prison pen housing 2,700 North Korean officers and 650 non-commissioned officers.

It was in this same compound only a few minutes earlier that prisoners had raised five Communist signs but had taken them down when given an ultimatum.

Mechanical drills failed to uncover any tunnels but the search will continue.

Notorious Compound 76-symbol of Communist defiance on this riotous island has been singled out as the first to be dispersed when "operation breakup" gets under way within the next few days.

Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, Koje's commander, has marked Compound 76 for special attention. It was learned he plans to nab the men who seized Brig. Gen. (now Colonel) Francis T. Dodd just one month ago. The Reds held the then-commander captive for 73 hours.

The POWs behind the barbed wire enclosures are now quiet and submissive after a week of stern action by Boatner. They undoubtedly know they will soon be transferred-probably early next week into more manageable compounds holding 500 men each. At present most of the 17 compounds hold from 4,600 to 6,000 men.

Boatner plans to use crack, battle-tested soldiers for the transfer. The POW transfer is planned in stages.

Walkout of UN Truce Talkers Baffles Communists

Munson, Korea, June 7 (P) — United Nations truce negotiators walked out on a "surprise" baffled Communist delegation today after declaring a three-day cess in the deadlocked Korean mistle talks without waiting Red consent.

Irked by Communist insistence on daily meetings, Maj. Gen. Ham K. Harrison, told the that "if you want to come tomorrow, you may. But we won't be back until 11 a. m. on 11."

The U. N. Command said negotiators will meet again Wednesday "or at a later date" if Communists so desire.

Harrison told newsmen that the Reds insisted as usual on opening daily he did not want to go to all that drive "every day."

For made no progress toward the deadlock over how to exchange prisoners of war, but the Communists have demanded daily meetings which they have used as propaganda sounding board.

Harrison said the Allies had repeatedly during Saturday's truce session for a three-day rest. Finally Nam asked for an afternoon session "presumably" got instructions from higher authority.

"We listened politely to Nam's remarks until it became evident he was still hoping we would back down on position," Harrison said. "I believe the only way I can make believe me is to act. I walked out. Col. Arthur P. Hurr, an U. N. spokesman, said sudden exit left the Red delegation 'surprised and baffled.'"

Nam had insisted there was reason at all for recessing the negotiations until Wednesday. Harrison started to walk out quickly called him back and gestured another meeting after "cess" for lunch.

During the morning Nam caused the Allies of "surprise" Communist Convention to declare their refusal to negotiate with Communist war prisoners they hold. Harrison answered by stating that the U. N. never will turn some 100,000 war prisoners into civilians who said they not want to return to Communist territory.

Backers Seek Vote on Wage, Price Control

Washington, June 5 (AP) — Senate administration forces, fighting off moves to suspend the government's wage-price control program, sought today to consolidate their victories and bring the measure to a vote.

At issue was a bill to extend the Defense Production Act, which provides the authority for the government's wage-price control program, sought today to consolidate their victories and bring the measure to a vote.

In a 12-12 hour session yesterday the Senate:

1. Rejected 57 to 22 an amendment by Sen. Caperhart (R-Ind.) to suspend both price and wage control until the cost of living index rose three points, from 108 to 191, or Congress declared war.

2. Defeated 40 to 20 an amendment by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) to take price ceilings off all food items and agricultural commodities.

3. Adopted, by a whopping voice-vote margin, a measure to knock price controls off potatoes and forbid the placing of price ceilings on any other fresh fruit or vegetable.

4. Shook down an amendment proposed by Sen. Scheepel (R-Kan.) to provide bigger profit margins for milk processors and distillers.

The main reverse for the administration forces came in adoption of an amendment to permit private business in this country to bid against the government in the international markets for scarce and rationed metals and other raw materials. The purchased materials would be exempt from price controls.

The Senate also voted to extend rent controls until March 1, 1953.

Truman to Pay a Visit to McGrath

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington, June 5 (AP) — President Truman's surprise acceptance of an invitation to weekend in New England with J. Howard McGrath, the attorney general he ousted two months ago, stirred political speculation today.

So did his agreement to talk over the party outlook this afternoon with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, a leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The President's weekly news conference offered reporters an opportunity to try to draw him out on both developments.

McGrath got the ax April 3, less than four hours after he summarily fired Newbold Morris as government corruption investigator.

McGrath has seen Truman a number of times since. Still reporters got a jolt late yesterday when the White House announced the President would spend the June 14-15 weekend at McGrath's farm at Narragansett, R. I.

It indicated that both men were willing to let bygones be bygones. McGrath was at the White House earlier in the day, talking to members of the President's staff, apparently completing arrangements for the trip.

The White House said Truman will be accompanied to the farm only by members of his staff. And McGrath said there was no political significance whatever to a weekend get-together of old friends.

Truman's acceptance of the invitation, however, recalled the swift developments of April 3. McGrath dismissed Morris after differences over a Morris question and after calling upon McGrath and other government officials to discontinue confidential financial affairs.

Then Truman announced McGrath's departure from the cabinet.

McGrath ended his sudden replacement by James P. McGrath for a "penalty" he gladly accepted for standing up for a principle.

The Boston Globe said in a Washington dispatch that the President "has commented to friends he has felt badly about the abrupt treatment given McGrath" and wrote a letter in longhand to express his feelings. Announcement of Truman's acceptance of the weekend invitation, the dispatch said, means the President "wants all the world to know that he has never ceased to be friends with McGrath."

McGrath has told friends there never was a break in the Truman-McGrath personal friendship. And he has said that his departure from the cabinet was inevitable as the result of the controversy with Morris, whom he brought to Washington, and congressional investigations into government scandals.

Truman will leave Washington by train the night of June 13 for New London, Conn. He will speak there Saturday, June 14, at keel laying ceremonies for the first atomic-powered submarine, the Nautilus. Afterwards, he will go by train to Kingston, R. I., and motor from there to McGrath's farm. Truman will leave Sunday night for Washington.

Meanwhile, Kefauver, fresh from new victories in the Democratic presidential primaries in California and South Dakota, disclosed — and the White House confirmed — that he will call on the President this afternoon at his own request.

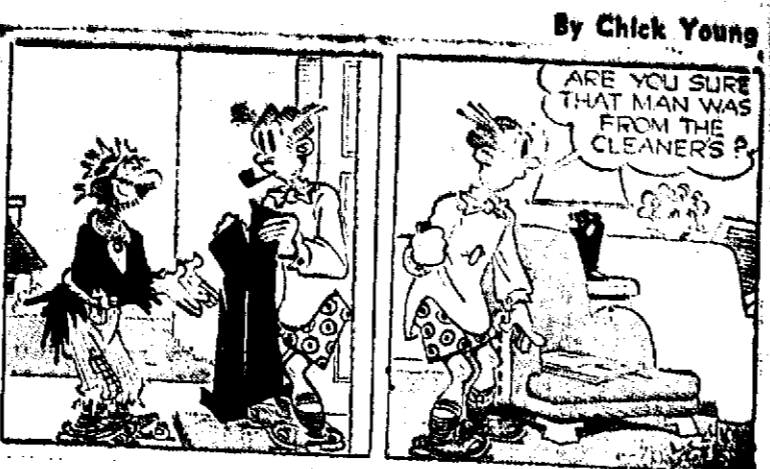

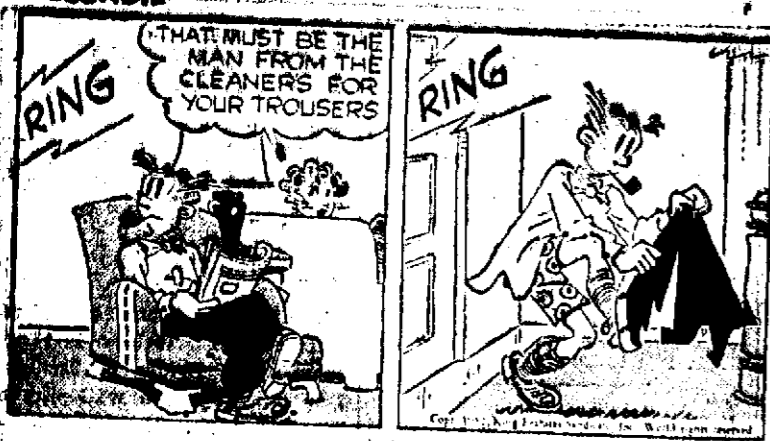

Kefauver said he wants to tell Truman what he has learned in his campaign travels around the country.

Apparently liked his avowed stand against universal military training. Some of them are conscientious objectors.

The vigorously fought primary, without any other major contests, was expected to be better by about 2,000 votes the 128,460 record set in the 1952 primary.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee easily won the eight South
